

Prism Symposium 2016

Design and Innovation with Solution-Oriented Coaching: How You Can Develop Creative Confidence as a Coach and in Your Clients

Thursday, October 6 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM

American Airlines CR Smith Museum
4601 Hwy 360, Fort Worth, TX 76155

LAST CALL for Prism Symposium 2016!

Early Bird Registration ($99) and Sponsorship Close Next Friday, September 23

Register here or by going to www.icf-nt.com

*Join your ICF Coaching Community!
Learn How Design Thinking Can Inform Your Coaching Practice
Honor a Stellar Corporate Coaching Program
See the Latest Products at Sponsor and Author Tables
Get CEU's by Attending Workshops
Enjoy Networking over Lunch and Happy Hour!
Sign Up Today!*

Keynote Speaker:

Kate Canales, Director of Design and Innovation Program, SMU

- Published Writer (Texas CEO Magazine, The Atlantic, GOOD) and TEDx Speaker
- Named One of the 20 Most Interesting Characters by The Dallas Observer, the People Issue 2015

Afternoon Workshops:

- Appreciative Coaching—Designing the Future with Positive Psychology to Accelerate Change for You and Your Clients. Presented by Kelley Russell-DuVarney, President-Elect of ICF-Greater Austin and Dr. Jude Olson, President-Elect of ICF-NT.
- The Process of Highly Effective Coaching: Learn a Four-Square Framework to Map Coaching Conversations. Presented by Dr. Robert Hicks.

Conference Cost:

- $ 99 – Early Bird Registration (Closes Next Friday, September 23)
- $ 89 – Half-Day (includes lunch)
- $129 – After September 23 (includes walk-ins)

Join us at our next University of Dallas Sustainable Business Network event which will be held on the campus of CHRISTUS Health to learn about their award-winning leadership development program.

On Friday, September 30th we will discuss these best practices:

- Getting all employees to embrace CHRISTUS Health's Catholic culture
- Assimilation of new executives
- Cross-cultural coaching
- Q&A session focused on how to develop successful leadership in organizations

CHRISTUS Health: Winner of the Prism Award from the International Coaching Federation for excellence in coaching and developing talent throughout their organization.

RSVP for this FREE event, and share this with your colleagues. Prior to the event you will receive a final confirmation of your registration, driving directions and complimentary parking instructions.

Friday, September 30, 2016

- 7:15 AM - Sign in, continental breakfast, networking
- 8:00 AM - Program begins

OUR SPEAKERS:

Scott Hopkins

CHRISTUS Health, Director, Talent Management, Leadership Development

Scott oversees manager and director level development for 1100+ leaders across six South Central states. General responsibilities include leader onboarding, Leader Foundations within their first year, CHRISTUS Center Leadership, and on-going training through one day leadership conferences three times a year within each region.

Lisa Reynolds, Ph.D. System Director of Talent Management CHRISTUS Health

Lisa has been with CHRISTUS Health for 19 years and has over 25 years of healthcare experience with prior operational responsibility in Patient Advocacy/Patient Relations, Volunteer Services, Risk Management, Service Excellence, Education, and Organizational Development. Lisa leads the overall vision, strategy, standards and protocols for the Talent Management Center of Excellence at CHRISTUS to include Leadership Development, Competency and Performance Management, Career Planning, Workforce Planning, Succession Planning, Learning and Capability Development and technology to support Talent Management.

RSVP NOW

The University of Dallas Sustainable Business Network (SBN) is an open forum for building relationships, exchanging best practices and fostering dialogue around issues of corporate social responsibility, sustainability and eco-innovation, and corporate governance. Hosted by the AACSB-accredited Satish & Yasmin Gupta College of Business at the University of Dallas, SBN hosts quarterly events and panel discussions on relevant topics led by recognized industry experts. More information about the University of Dallas Sustainable Business can be found at: <http://www.udallas.edu/cob/sbn/>

Dr. R. Greg Bell

Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs / Associate Professor of Management

Satish & Yasmin Gupta College of Business University of Dallas

Accredited by AACSB International

1845 E. Northgate Drive | Irving, Texas 75062 | USA

gbell@udallas.edu | 972-721-5167